PEARSON OPENING TO CULMINATE TDM/CLARK COUNTY RENAISSANCE

April 24, 2008 – Las Vegas, Nevada, USA – Over the past few weeks, The Dumbbell Man (TDM) reconfirmed its long-standing commitment to the Clark County Department of Parks and Community Services by upgrading the fitness centers located within the Hollywood and Desert Breeze Recreation Centers. The culminating moment of this ever-strengthening partnership will arrive on May 31st however, with the grand opening of the new state-of-the-art Pearson Community Center. This 40,000-square-foot facility, designed by the architectural firm of Dekker/Perich/Sabatini, is a joint venture between Clark County Nevada and the Urban League. TDM designed, supplied, installed, and will maintain the Cybex-equipped fitness center, which features both a full array of commercial grade cardiovascular and VR3 selectorized strength training equipment.

Kate Grewe, Program Supervisor, commented: "From the initial developmental meeting through this week's installation, collaborating with TDM has been a great experience. We received nothing but the highest level of personal attention throughout this entire process, and it has always been very apparent that the entire TDM staff is committed to providing complete customer satisfaction."
