NEW FITNESS CENTER CHRISTENED AT SPANISH TRAIL

February 11, 2008 – Las Vegas, Nevada, USA – Spanish Trail – Las Vegas' original guard-gated community – reopened their Fitness Center yesterday, celebrating the completion of the facility's total renovation. The Dumbbell Man (TDM) designed and executed this transformation, creating an amenity that now rivals any located within a private community. Asa Ashcraft, Managing Director, commented:

"TDM's reputation afforded us tremendous confidence entering into this project. This facility is a significant step forward for Spanish Trail and the finished product is absolutely incredible. TDM's commitment and service is beyond reproach."

The new Spanish Trail Fitness Center now offers best-in-class equipment from Cybex International. Each piece of cardiovascular training equipment features a personal entertainment monitor for individual viewing pleasure. Specialized flooring and other custom finishes were also addressed, as TDM prides itself on unrelenting attention to detail.

Spanish Trail got its name from the road 18th century Spanish traders took while passing through the Las Vegas valley on their way to the west coast. There are 11 neighborhoods in Spanish Trail, which spreads over 640 acres. The centerpiece of the community is the Spanish Trail Golf and Country Club, who's 27-hole championship course was designed by Robert Trent Jones Jr.
